District Conference

The Distinguished Club Program (DCP) is Toastmasters International general measure of club success and quality of service delivered to members.

A primary objective of clubs is to provide the best possible member experience so that existing members are retained and new members join. When clubs possess characteristics of quality, the member experience is enhanced.

The District supports clubs to enhance this experience through the working interactions of Area and Division Directors to promote the value of the program to the club's reputation and to coach club officers in helping their clubs achieve their set targets in the DCP.

To help members achieve their educational goals in the Toastmasters program, clubs are encouraged to create a vision and develop a Club Success Plan, which for many clubs will be based on the targets outlined in the DCP.

By achieving a certain number of the targets in this program, a club can earn one of three levels of recognition:

- Achieve five of ten goals = Distinguished Club
- Achieve seven of ten goals = Select Distinguished Club
- Achieve nine of ten goals = President's Distinguished Club

The success of a club and its members depend on how well club officers execute their responsibilities. By providing leadership training and support, club officers can foster a positive environment that's conducive to members' personal and professional growth, allowing them to achieve their Toastmasters education program goals.

There are two rounds of training sessions conducted in the program year, between June 1 and August 31 and between November 1 and February 28, with facilitators from the educational development team delivering a quality training experience.

A minimum of four club officers, preferably all seven, are required to attend each round of training which earns the club a credit in the DCP.

Here is the guideline for awarding credit to officers who have attended training and are looking to be awarded credit for multiple positions.

The District's recognition programs are designed to recognize the efforts and achievements of clubs, officers and members each program year. The focus is club quality and member satisfaction, and the objective is to promote, develop and sustain quality clubs.

Awards are presented at the Spring Conference to Toastmasters who demonstrate outstanding commitment, dedication and leadership to their clubs, areas, divisions and our organization as a whole. Club members benefit by understanding the qualities of past winners who are examples of those who go above and beyond in their participation in Toastmasters.
